

Love Quotes

Love is the emblem of eternity: it confounds all notion of time: effaces all memory of a beginning, all fear of an end. ~Germaine De Stael

And now these three remain: faith, hope and love. But the greatest of these is Love. ~ 1 Corinthians 13:13 NIV

Real love stories never have endings. ~Richard Bach

The truth is that there is only one terminal dignity-love. And the story of a love is not important-what is important is that one is capable of love. It is perhaps the only glimpse we are permitted of eternity. ~ Helen Hayes

What greater thing is there for two human souls than to feel that they are joined together to strengthen each other in all labor, to minister to each other in all sorrow, to share with each other in all gladness, to be one with each other in the silent unspoken memories? ~ George Eliot

The magic of first love is our ignorance that it can never end. ~Benjamin Disraeli

Sooner or later we begin to understand that love is more than verses on valentines and romance in the movies. We begin to know that love is here and now, real and true, the most important thing in our lives. For love is the creator of our favorite memories and the foundation of our fondest dreams. Love is a promise that is always kept, a fortune that can never be spent, a seed that can flourish in even the most unlikely of places. And this radiance that never fades, this mysterious and magical joy, is the greatest treasure of all - one known only by those who love. ~ Author Unknown

Love is the passionate and abiding desire on the part of two or more people to produce together conditions under which each can be and spontaneously express, his real self; to produce together an intellectual soil and an emotional climate in which each can flourish, far superior to what either could achieve alone. ~Author Unknown

The heart has reasons that reason does not understand. ~Jacques Bossuet

Henceforth there will be such a oneness between us that when one weeps the other will taste salt. ~Author Unknown

Love is eternal. The aspect may change, but not the essence. There is the same difference in a person before and after he is in love as there is in an unlighted lamp and one that is burning. The lamp was there and was a good lamp, but now it is shedding light too, and that's its real function. Love makes one calmer about many things, and that way, one is more fit for one's work. ~ Van Gogh

Yes, I now feel that it was then on that evening of sweet dreams- that the very first dawn of human love burst upon the icy night of my spirit. Since that period I have never seen nor heard your name without a shiver half of delight, half of anxiety. For years your name never passed my lips, while my soul drank in, with a delirious thirst, all that was uttered in my presence respecting you. ~Edgar Allan Poe

But true love is a durable fire, In the mind ever burning, Never sick, never old, never dead, From itself never turning. ~Sir Walter Raleigh

Line by line, moment by moment, special times are etched into our memories in the permanent ink of everlasting love in our relationships. ~Gloria Gaither

Accept the things To which fate binds you and Love the people with whom fate brings you together But do so with all your heart. ~Marcus Aurelius

Love is a verb. We can't say it enough. Love must not only be spoken, but must also be shown. ~Phil Ware

There is no fear in love; but perfect love casts out fear. ~John 4:18

When love is accompanied with deep intimacy, it raises us to the highest level of human experience. In this exalted space, we can surrender our egos, become vulnerable and know levels of joy and well being unique among life experiences. We attain a glimpse of the rapture that can be ours. Boundaries are blurred, there are no limitations and we rejoice in union. We become one and, at the same time, both. ~Leo Buscaglia

The glory of friendship is not the outstretched hand, nor the kindly smile nor the joy of companionship; it is the spiritual inspiration that comes to one when he discovers that someone else believes in him and is willing to trust him. ~Ralph Waldo Emerson

True love is eternal, infinite, and always like itself. It is equal and pure, without violent demonstrations: it is seen with white hairs and is always young in the heart. ~Honore de Balzac

To love someone is to acknowledge the goodness of who they are. Through loving a person we awaken their awareness of their own innate goodness. It is as though they cannot know how worthy they are until they look into the mirror of our love and see themselves. ~John Gray, Ph.D.

Thou art my life, my love, my heart, The very eyes of me; And hast command of every part To live and die for thee. ~Robert Herrick

How do you spell love?... when you reach the point where the happiness, security, and development of another person is as much of a driving force to you as your own happiness, security, and development, then you have a mature love. True love is spelled G-I-V-E. It is not based on what you can get, but rooted in what you can give to the other person. ~Josh McDowell

We do not believe in ourselves until someone reveals that deep inside us is valuable, worth listening to, worthy of our trust, sacred to our touch. Once we believe in our- selves we can risk curiosity, wonder, spontaneous delight or any experience that reveals the human spirit. ~ E.E. Cummings

Love vanquishes time. To lovers, a moment can be eternity; eternity can be the tick of a clock. Across the barriers of time and the ultimate destiny, love persists, for the home of the beloved, absent or present, is always in the mind and heart. Absence does not diminish love. ~Mary Parrish (MaCalls Magazine)

May you be grounded and rooted in love. ~ Ephesians 3: 14-19

Love does not consist of gazing at each other, but looking outward in the same direction. ~Antoine de Saint-Exupery

From every human being there rises a light that reaches straight to heaven. And when two souls that are destined to be together find each other, their streams of light flow together, and a single brighter light goes forth from their united being. ~ Unknown

The most eloquent silence; that of two mouths meeting in a kiss. ~Unknown

I love you not only for what you are, but for what I am when I am with you. I love you not only for what you have made of yourself, but for what you are making of me. I love you for the part of me that you bring out. ~Unknown

But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. Against such things there is no law. Notice the word fruit is singular, yet it list nine. ~ Galatians 5:22

So there is only one fruit of the Spirit. That fruit is love. The others...

Joy - love smiling

Peace - love resting

Patience - love waiting

Kindness - love showing itself sensitive to others' feelings

Goodness - love making allowances

Faithfulness - love proving constant

Gentleness - love yielding

Self-control - love triumphing over selfish inclinations

To laugh often and love much... to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others, to give one's self... this is to have succeeded. ~ Ralph Waldo Emerson

The more extreme and the more expressed that passion is, the more unbearable does life seem without it. It reminds us that if passion dies or is denied, we are partly dead... ~ John Boorman

Love means to commit oneself without guarantee, to give oneself completely in the hope that our love will produce love in the loved person. Love is an act of faith, and whoever is of little faith is also of little love. ~Erich Fromm

Above all, love each other deeply, because love covers over a multitude of sins. Offer hospitality to one another without grumbling. ~1 Peter 4:8-9

Life, the gift of nature Love, the gift of life A Kiss, the gift of Love ~ Unknown

God made many puzzle pieces, but only those two 'cut out' for each other; can fit together to create a perfect and beautiful picture. ~ Jessica Cochran

Put on love, which binds everything together in harmony. ~ Colossians 3: 12-17

The most wonderful of all things in life is the discovery of another human being with whom one's relationship has a growing depth, beauty and joy as the years increase. This inner progressiveness of love between two human beings is a most marvelous thing; it cannot be found by looking for it or by passionately wishing for it. It is a sort of divine accident, and the most wonderful of all things in life. ~ Sir Hugh Walpole
